TERMS & CONDITIONS OF ENTRY

- 1.1 Submission is by online entry only. Entries are selected from the digital application (Stage 1) with successful artists asked to deliver work to the RHA for further consideration and possible inclusion in the exhibition (Stage 2). An email reminder will be sent to artists to check their status on the dates listed.
- 1.2 All communication will be via the online login process (O-List). Applicants will be required to login to see if they have been pre-selected and will be asked to download and print their application labels and details to be delivered with the artwork for Stage 2. Failure to do so could result in work being withdrawn from the exhibition.
- 1.3 Each artwork must have both a tie-on and stick-on label. Both labels are used during selection in Stage 2. Please ensure that the label information matches the information at the time to entry. It is important that all details are included on the form, as incomplete details will deem the entry inadmissible. All works will be checked on entry, so please make sure your information is correct.
- 1.4 All works handed in for Stage 2 selection must be:
  - Unwrapped
  - Professionally presented (needing no further work, additions or framing prior to exhibition)
  - Labelled correctly (two labels)
  - Works that are of a delicate or fragile nature can be delivered wrapped but must be clearly marked with additional labels on the packaging. The organisers may ask that work is unwrapped.
- 1.5 The work should not have been exhibited previously in Dublin with the exception of Graduate Exhibitions.
- 1.6 Submissions of work are invited from visual artists working in paint, photography, sculpture, architecture, print, drawing and mixed media. Works outside these categories are not usually accepted.
- 1.7 The RHA reserves the right to reject work that it believes is in breach of copyright laws.
- 1.8 Reproductions of existing artworks are not eligible.
- 1.9 Work must be professionally presented for exhibition. All artworks must be presented with complete mechanisms for hanging. Exposed wet canvases or works that could cause damage to others will not be accepted under any circumstances. Work that arrives damaged or unfit for exhibition due to any material defect will automatically be deemed ineligible for exhibition.

- 1.10 Artwork must have been created in the past five years.
- 1.11 All works must be marked for sale with the exception of portraits. A commission of 35% is charged by the gallery. It will be assumed that the sale price includes all your costs and RHA commission. Please allow for these points when pricing your work. Prices should include VAT if applicable.
- 1.12 All 2D work should not be of undue size (work over 150 x 150cm are only considered in exceptional circumstances). There is no limitation for sculpture dimensions.
- 1.13 A price for framed work for artwork with editions, e.g. photography, must be included for the catalogue and online sales platform. There is no unframed sales option for editions.
- 1.14 We accept work from outside the EU. Artists sending works from outside the EU are responsible for payment of any associated duties or taxes. The RHA will not be responsible for resolving any customs issues that may occur. Artists must ensure that their work reaches us on the designated days and is customs compliant. The RHA will not pay customs charges, duty or any associated charges on works arriving by courier. It is the artist's responsibility to ensure that the work is correctly packaged, as the RHA will not accept responsibility for work damaged in transit or by any third parties.
- 1.15 The utmost care will be taken of all works submitted for exhibition. The RHA will not be liable for any damage, loss of or destruction of artworks. Artists should insure their works against all risks. All works accepted for exhibition will be transported entirely at the artists' risk. The organisers and the gallery will not accept liability for loss or damage occurring during travel to the exhibition or the selection process. Works are insured when accepted to the exhibition and condition checked by the gallery.
- 1.16 In order to meet deadlines, incomplete applications will not be accepted. The RHA will not be responsible for any errors or omissions in the catalogue. The RHA will not be liable for any loss arising out of any error, omission or decision made by the committee. All information entered on your submission form will be used in the catalogue and online sales platform - changes are not possible once the submission form has been submitted.
- 1.17 Unselected works from Stage 2 and unsold works from the exhibition must be collected on the designated days. If an artist is unable to collect on these days, we ask that you ask someone to collect on your behalf. All artworks not collected by the end of August 2025 will be liable for a storage charge. All artworks not collected by the end of September 2025 will be disposed of.
- 1.18 The artist allows the RHA to use images of any artwork for publicity and public engagement purposes only. This includes television, print (catalogue, newspapers, trade publications), website (RHA and others), social media (RHA and others) and any other method that the RHA deems fit for purpose.

- 1.19 If selected for exhibition, work cannot be removed from display until after the close of the exhibition.
- 1.20 Sold work is marked with a red dot. The RHA will not be liable for any loss arising out of the failure by a purchaser to complete a sale or the mis-marking of any sold artwork. A 35% commission from the listed catalogue price will be deducted from all works sold during the exhibition. Artists will be paid six weeks after the close of the exhibition only if the RHA has been fully paid by the purchaser.
- 1.21 The RHA will not undertake the wrapping, crating and packing of any artworks.
- 1.22 For awards with age constraints, the artist must be below or the relevant age on the date of submission in order to qualify, in this case 23 February 2025.
- 1.23 The selection committee is made up of six practicing artist Members of the RHA. Artworks are presented anonymously and judged solely on merit. The decision is final and binding, and no correspondence or feedback will be entered into under any circumstance.
